CPR Historic Centre

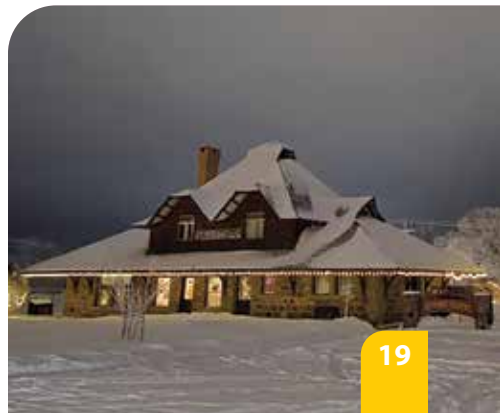

During the summer of 1883, the Canadian Pacific Railway (CPR) main line crossed Gopher Creek about 45 kilometres from the present Saskatchewan border. The siding, with a bridge, small station and water tower, was named Virden, after the country estate of The Duke of Manchester, a major CPR shareholder. Within a few years, a thriving community had established itself on the townsit surveyed by the CPR.

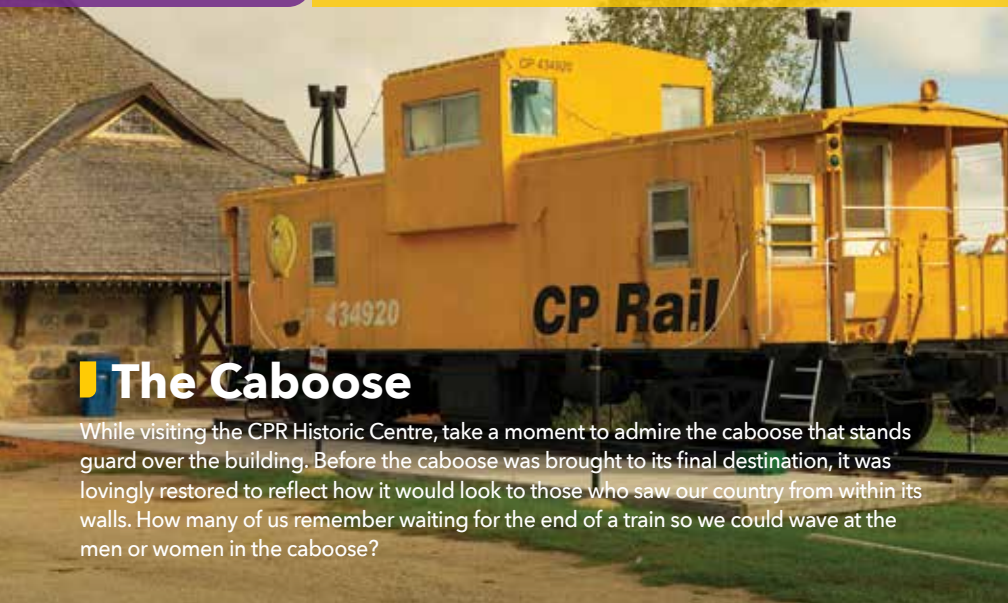

By 1899 Virden had grown to such an extent that plans were made to replace the original station with a larger, more modern, facility. Built in 1900, the picturesque design for the new depot was a product of R.B. Pratt, a notable station designer, first with the CPR and then for their rival, Canadian Northern. The Virden station was from a standardized set of plans, used on several other Manitoba stations. The design was distinguished by its remarkable roof, an impressive and complicated composition with dormers and beak-like canopies. The Virden Station is the only one in Manitoba constructed of fieldstone.

Nearby, a railway underpass built in 1917 allows pedestrians to cross the tracks safely.

📍 425-6th Avenue South, Virden. See Virden Map marker #35 on page 49.

The Caboose

While visiting the CPR Historic Centre, take a moment to admire the caboose that stands guard over the building. Before the caboose was brought to its final destination, it was lovingly restored to reflect how it would look to those who saw our country from within its walls. How many of us remember waiting for the end of a train so we could wave at the men or women in the caboose?

Costume Closet

The Costume Closet has been deemed a one-of-a-kind collection—like no other in Canada! With over 30,000 items it's no wonder! Housed within its 4,000 square foot building are pieces of Manitoba and Canada's history. Some examples are a cape that was bought in the Eatons store in Montreal before one was built in Winnipeg, a man's black wool bathing suit that was bought in England before 1910, and authentic military uniforms worn in WW2. Costumes from this collection have been used in several movie productions.

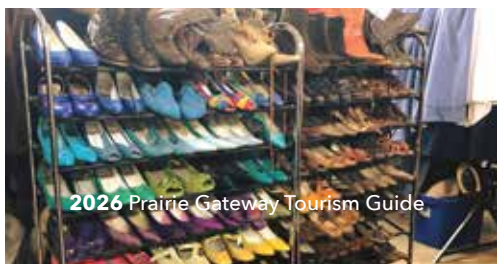

Tours are available upon request, do not miss out on the opportunity to view this collection! The Costume Closet is open Mondays and Thursdays from 3:00 p.m. - 6:00 p.m.

Kenton Bandstand

Located on Kenton's main street, across from our local Dodge dealership, this venue is used for many events, from Canada Day celebrations, concerts, fundraisers, and evenings out on the Legion patio, to personal events such as weddings and funerals.

The bandstand is nestled in the centre of town, surrounded by beautiful trees and gardens. The stage itself is decorated with murals done by Kenton's very own artists, Erica and Mary Lowe, and built by the volunteer hands of many wonderful community members. Kenton is very lucky to have this venue maintained again by their "green thumb" volunteer gardeners. The bandstand itself is open to both the Legion patio and the large green space. This gives an opportunity for enjoying local shows from any vantage point.

The idea to construct this venue came about when some mothers in the community who attend the local playgroup thought a natural playground would be a nice addition to the town. The idea took roots and the community has not looked back. New additions to the park have included benches, balance beam logs for play, gardens, and a memorial garden.

AT THE BANDSTAND

Canada Day Celebration – July 1, 2026

The memorial garden has been a nice addition to the space, giving everyone a spot in town to remember loved ones lost. It is a work in progress and the community hopes to continue to create this space into an area that can grow over time for all to enjoy.

You can find our page on Facebook under Kenton Community Park Project. Look it up and stay tuned for summer events... or just come and enjoy the green space next time you find yourself in Kenton!

MUSEUMS

Virten Pioneer Home Museum

A visit to the Virten Pioneer Home Museum greets guests with the way of life of an established Victorian family in the Canadian West. The large brick-veneer home, which houses the majority of the museum's collection, was built in 1888 on "Quality Hill," which represented one of the wealthiest districts in early Virten. Each room has been re-furnished to reflect the charm of the era, with numerous period items and furniture, giving it a homey, almost lived-in feeling.

The museum was officially opened in 1970 – Manitoba's Centennial year – with 300 artifacts and has grown to over 11,000 on display. The museum's annexes house post office, general store, and schoolhouse displays, as well as other memorabilia of pioneer life. First World War artifacts and uniforms, and a folk-art gallery, are also featured. The museum has one of the most extensive and complete collections in rural Manitoba.

Manitoba Antique Auto Museum

Along the Trans-Canada Highway at Elkhorn is a collection of rare, antique automobiles, vintage agricultural equipment and quirky memorabilia so unique that you won't question your decision to drive across the Prairies in the heat of the summer to check it out.

A red 1930 American Austin miniature car greets you in the lobby along with a taxidermy two-headed calf, and vintage photos of local curling and baseball teams, 4-H clubs and threshing bees.

Through a second set of doors is where the automotive-history experience begins: An exotic collection of 80 vehicles awaits, including a 1902 Holsman, a 1909 Hupmobile, and one of the largest collections of original McLaughlin Motor Cars in Canada. You'll also find a horse-drawn hearse on skis for the winter, a 1955 Packard, and plenty more items to pique your interest.

This museum owes its existence to founder Isaac (Ike) Clarkson, a local farmer who passionately wanted to preserve a mechanical record of his times. With more than 120 antique automobiles, pioneer tools and a steam engine, this museum is one of a kind.

The museum is open daily from May to September, 10:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. For more information about the museum, rates, tours and events, visit the museum's Facebook page.

Woodworth Millennium Museum

This two-storey wooden residence in the village of Kenton was built in the early 20th century by local businessman Leander Lawlor. It is one of the few well-preserved buildings remaining from the village's Establishment-era history. Lawlor was a longstanding Kenton businessman and built many local residential and commercial buildings including his own house. The six modest bedrooms on the second-floor help tell the story of its time as a boarding house. This type of house was important to the development of early 20th century prairie towns, where a boarding house provided temporary or longer-term residence for those newly-arrived or in transition. The house is now a community museum, tours of which are by appointment only.

HISTORIC SITES

River Valley Historical Society

River Valley School District No. 879 was formally established in February 1896 with a stone school building. Named for its position in the Assiniboine River Valley northeast of Virden, the school opened with 33 students taught by Mr. Brokenshire, the minister at Breadalbane Church.

The school was the educational and social centre of the area until it closed in 1955; the district was dissolved in July 1966. Renovations to the building since its closure have included the replacement of stones in its southwest corner with concrete, and the bricking over of several window openings.

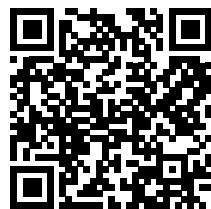

The former school, along with a picnic area and campsite, are operated as a tourist site by volunteers of the River Valley Historical Society. A plaque mounted on the building door in 1995 commemorates Agnes Anderson for her years of service to the facility. A plaque on the building exterior, dedicated on August 3, 1996, commemorates the students, teachers, and families of the River Valley School District.

Virden AUD Theatre

Virden's treasured opera house, the AUD Theatre was erected in 1911-1912. It is the design of Architect W.A. Elliott. With its outstanding acoustics and classical style, the AUD has been recognized as one of the best concert halls of its size in Western Canada.

When the theatre fell into disarray in the early 1980s, there was danger of it being demolished and a group of citizens rallied and raised over $80,000 to save the building.

In the past 30 years, the volunteer AUD board has undertaken numerous projects with the aim of improving and modernizing the theatre. The latest project is a refurbishment of the AUD seats making them larger while maintaining the charming historic elements. The hand-painted original canvas curtain and the gorgeous box seats make this theatre beautifully unique.

During the year, this magical theatre hosts both professional and local amateur groups. Traditional bookings include elaborate elementary Christmas concerts, the Virden Dance Club, the Virden and District Youth Choir, and a thriving Virden Music and Arts Festival. Virden Theatre Productions puts on elaborate professional quality productions each fall.

The Auditorium Theatre is a testament to those who fought to preserve it, a privilege to those who have the opportunity to perform in it, and a treasure to the people of Virden and all who attend performances in it.

Historical Walking Tour

Virden today is the hub of the cattle, agriculture and oil industries. The community prides itself on beautiful surroundings and cherishes its local history.

The Virden Historical Tour gives a good background of the town and the story before the coming of the first Canadians. We go back as far as the Great Inland Sea... and the sea monsters that went with it.

Tours deal with the stern-wheelers on the Assiniboine River and famous Fort La Bosse. The tour usually takes a little more than two hours of walking. For a young frontier town, Virden has a wealth of stories to be told.

The tour offers a family-friendly and affordable outing. The guide is theatrical and knowledgeable. The adventure starts at the CPR Historic Centre Station, a story in itself.

Access to the Aud Theatre and Costume Closet can be arranged with a donation to each organization.

We have so many beautiful murals throughout the Prairie Gateway Tourism region. In Elkhorn, the front of The Manitoba Antique Automobile Museum was painted to capture the look of one of the antique cars you can find inside the museum. You can find many car-inspired murals all throughout Elkhorn!

In Kenton, the most known mural is on the side of Brierwood Creek Café. This beautiful mural transports you back in time to a scenic winter day. SPORTS

■ Virten Oil Capitals Junior "A" Hockey

In 2011, a dedicated group of local investors purchased the Winnipeg Saints Junior "A" franchise and relocated the team to Virten, where they began play at the newly built Tundra Oil & Gas Place as the Virten Oil Capitals in the Manitoba Junior Hockey League. Since that inaugural season, the Oil Caps have been a consistent playoff contender, with their strongest runs coming in 2017-18 and 2022-23 when they advanced all the way to the Turnbull Cup Final.

Over the years, the Oil Caps have become much more than a hockey team, they are a central part of the community's identity. The Oil Caps bring a high level of Junior "A" hockey to Virten every winter, showcasing elite talent from the local area, across Canada, and beyond. Many players move on to NCAA, U SPORTS, and professional opportunities, giving local fans the chance to watch top-tier hockey right in their own backyard.

In June 2020, the organization officially transitioned to operating as a Not-For-Profit, further strengthening its commitment to community involvement and sustainability. From school visits and local events to volunteer initiatives and partnerships with businesses, the Oil Caps take pride in giving back to the community that supports them so passionately.

The Oil Caps continue to provide exciting, competitive hockey while serving as a source of pride, entertainment, and inspiration throughout Virten and the surrounding area.
